Volume XXIV

Founded in September, 1868, by the Daughters of the Cross

DEDICATED . . . TO THE PIONEERS

For nearly 200 years, almost to our present day, Louisiana drew largely on France for its clergy and religious, and it is those self-sacrificing men and women who kept Louisiana in the faith and laid the foundation of that Catholic life which we witness today.

Here at St. Vincent's we are fortunate to have a number of these pioneers in religious education still with us. They are the French nuns—valiant women who have toiled faithfully in the vineyard of love.

Most of them came to Shreveport about the turn of the century when the Mother House was moved here from South Louisiana. They survived the devastating fire of 1906 which reduced the original frame building to ashes. Courageously they, joined with neighbors to carry chapel altars, statues, and Stations of the Cross from the blazing buildings.

Without complaint they met their tasks of clearing away the debris, facing untold hardships and bitter disappointments, until two years later they witnessed the opening of a grand new edifice—our St. Vincent's, fashioned of brick made of clay found on the premises.

These sisters have served in countless capacities. SISTER CATHERINE was Mother Superior of the Daughters of the Cross from 1925-28 but she is best remembered by Shreveporters as Principal and Superior of the Sacred Heart School on Herndon Street—a post she filled for many years.

SISTER ANGELA, Mistress of Novices for a long period of time, was a pioneer promoter of the Tarcisians—an organization for the purpose of training lay apostles for Catholic Action.

Until her sight failed, SISTER FRANCIS DE SALES was an energetic elementary and music teacher. She is the oldest nun, from the standpoint of service, in the community, and is said to have fostered many vocations to the religious life.

SISTER CHANTAL, affectionately known as "Ma Soeur," was in charge of the sacristy for a number of years, supervised the book store, served in many posts of responsibility, but she is best remembered as Mistress of the Boarders. Ma Soeur's charges still remember her as a "gifted storyteller," especially tales dealing with fishing off the coast of France.

SISTERS LEOCADIE, JOACHIM, MARGARET MARY, and EPHREM spent most of their lives in America under the roof of St. Vincent's. They have worked in the kitchen, the laundry and are avid gardeners. Theirs have been the little tasks without which the larger ones could not have been accomplished.

SISTER AIMEE DE JESUS, for many years a teacher and book-keeper for the community, spends most of her hours of her last years in the chapel—praying for the world and for her beloved community.

SISTER PLACIDE was among the early faculty members of the down-town St. Mary's School. Though bed-ridden now, Sister is with us in prayer and spirit.

SISTER EUGENIA, a teacher for many years, was Mother Superior for two terms 1934-37 and 1940-43. During her terms enrollment tripled at SVA.

SISTER MAGDALEN is a well known teacher. Most of her life has been spent in Monroe where generation after generation of boys and girls came under her influence.

To these pioneers, with gratitude and affection, we dedicate the 1962 Vincentian. They have witnessed the history of our old building from its inception. They look forward, with us, to a future full of hope and peace in the new building.

WE FACE THE CHALLENGE TO CREATE A SPIRIT TO EQUAL THE OLD

FOREWORD

As a fleeting moment gropes for the incomprehensible eternity and passes away, the old Saint Vincent gropes for an unobtainable existence. It is an old, tired building, yet it clings to the idea of serving humanity again and again as it has done in the past.

This is the last year that it will be able to feel busy feet mounting the creaky stairs, or hear the laughter in the halls, or the celestial sound of the choir in the chapel.

Yes, the old building, built brick by brick by human hearts and souls, will not be here for long; it must be destroyed in order that the inevitable progress may move into its place. But its spirit will never be razed as long as there are more human hearts striving to keep it forever encased in the soul.

It happens that the 1962 Vincentian staff was chosen by providence to edit and publish the last book of precious memories to come out of this school on St. Vincent's Avenue. And as the new now moves in to replace the old, we are proud to offer you this priceless possession, your 1962 Vincentian.

WITH FAITH IN GOD

The Daughters of the Cross are truly more than teachers, guides and instructors. They are the supporting pillars of all our efforts. They lay for us a strong religious foundation by which our highest goals may be attained. Their unique and varied personalities enable them to achieve greater quality of instructions and results.

The Daughters of the Cross instill the spirit of St. Frances DeSales by the example of outstanding virtues of loyalty, moderation, gentleness, humility, charity, and cultural refinement. These contributions to our education and lives have a lasting influence over our learning.

Though a transition is taking place, changing the old for the new, the D.C.'s will continue to direct a spiritual high school education.

FACULTY

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION CLOSES DOOR TO OLD SCHOOL BUT OPENS A NEW AND BETTER DOOR - THE ENTRANCE TO NEW KNOWLEDGE

Sr. Helen Marie signs tardy slips for late-comers, Mary Kay Martzell, Patsy LeGarde and Adrane Roy. This is just a minor part of the job of one member of our faculty. Many everyday tasks, some small and some large, go unnoticed. But all must be done to achieve an efficient, organized school.

"Top-notch education" is St. Vincent's well-deserved reputation. For over fifty years this aim has been successfully carried out by the faculty.

In the atmosphere of the new St. Vincent's High School, students and teachers will continue to strive for goals established in past years.

ARE OUR HERITAGE

September brings full swing participation in activities ranging from class politicians planning their soap-box speeches to the Sophomores decorating for their annual fall social. From eight in the morning till the late evening hours, the school throbs with the challenges offered to all its students and promotes talent, initiative, and intelligence.

May brings to an end the endeavors of the year. With trophy cases filled and with minds and hearts overflowing, we look back over our accomplishments with pride and satisfaction, and look ahead to the future to see the advancements made, the tournaments won, the trophies gathered, and the school tradition upheld in the halls of the New Saint Vincent's.

ORGANIZATIONS

"Let's get into the Swing of Things" is the Student Council Theme for this year. President, Martha Mabry; Vice-President, Barbara McMillian; Secretary, Peggy Moffatt; and Treasurer, Frances Caplis, render service to the student body and help carry out the theme established.

Co-ordinating club activities is the job of the Club Board. Bernadette Zimmer, Delores Tiller, Dolores Bott, Toni Messmer, Jann Folsom, Pat Dwyer, Pat Candilora, Betty Marks, Mary Uffelman, Nina Broyles, Bitsy Patrick, Anne Napughton, Mary Morneau, Secretary, and Ann Braswell, President, see that all runs smoothly.

Atholyn Ligon, Grace Provenzana, Nancy May, Ramona Bott, and Florence McGill, class presidents, plan projects for the harmony of the classes.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS MANAGE CAMPUS BOOK STORE

The N.H.S. Book store is run by members Ramona Bott, Nina Broyles, Martha Mabry, Florence McGill and Anne Naughton.

N.H.S. members Dutchy Bodheimer, Nancy May, Nikki Rivet, Karen Stevens, Carole Schexnaidre and Barbara McMillian look on while Betty Marks counts money in the campus store.

Sue Gauthier, Judy Nash, Christine Barr, Shirley DeLatin, Carole Schexnaidre, Vicki May, and Rosemary Miciotto form the workable team that helps publish the Spark and the Flammette.

Rosalie Ingouf and Mary Morneau, reporters, work to meet Spark deadline.

PAPER STAFF PUBLISHES SPARK AND FLAMMETTE

To the Business staff, BeBe Crofton, Sherrie Hennard, Mary Collette, Business Manager, and Janie Webb, money is big news.

GIFT OF KNOWLEDGE

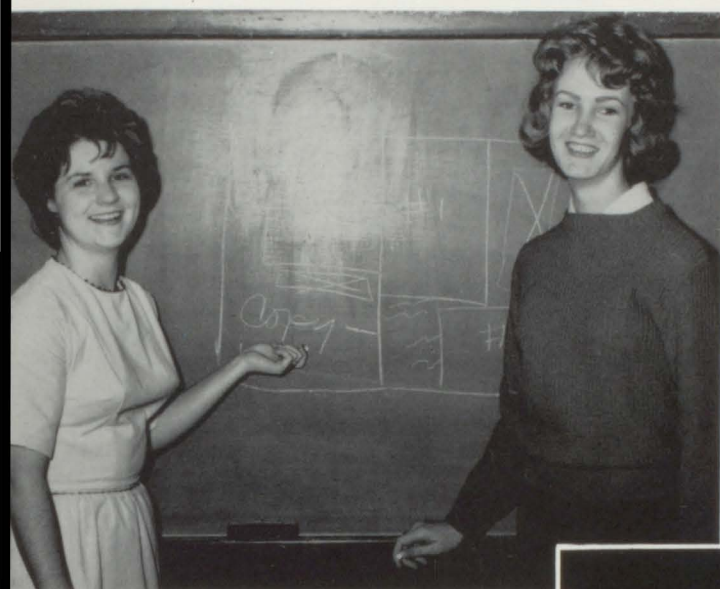

Co-editors Anne Naughton and Florence McGill flip the switch that starts the Spark on the way to its readers.

Ramona Bott, Patti Tidwell, Jeanne Scholz, Janis Smith, Idamae Follain and Betty McCotter confer with Mrs. Brandon about deadlines.

Mary Uffelman and Toni Messmer, co-editors of the Vincentian, illustrate copy lay-outs.

STAFF WORKS TRANSITION THEME INTO 1962 VINCENTIAN

Nicki Rivet and Jann Folsom edit and proofread the copy for the Vincentian.

Barbara Sahl and Pat Malloy arrange cards for easier handling.

Mrs. W. G. Brandon works with co-editors Toni Messmer and Mary Uffelman to complete a shipment to the publisher.

Christine Malec, Shirley Bougeois, Paula Van Veckhouen, Vickie Tillman; Second row, Nancy Williams, Karen Stevens, Dianne Ross, and Darlene Strange augment the journalism staff.

Planning Summer Ad Campaign are standing, Mary Morneau, Anne Naughton, Mary Uffelman, Marilyn Russell, Dorothy Stevens, Margaret McMeel, Betty McCotter, Toni Messmer. Seated, Mary Collett, Nancy Williams, Jeanne Scholz, and Karen Stevens.

The international honorary society for high school journalists, Quill and Scroll, welcomes into its membership outstanding students in the fields of writing, editing and business management. The candidates, juniors, seniors, or post-graduates, are selected from the newspaper, yearbook, or hand-book staffs. The nominees must be recommended by the principal or adviser and must be in the upper one third of the class. The staff records are submitted and carefully examined for final worthiness and qualification.

QUILL AND SCROLL IS HONOR SOCIETY FOR JOURNALISTS

Vincetian Editors Toni Messmer and Mary Uffelman hang out "their shingle."

New Quill and Scroll members, Mary Collett, Karen Stevens, and Betty McCotter, locate new materials for the journalists.

Junior Journalists BeBe Crofton, Vickie May, and Christine Barr examine files and papers.

Florence McGill, Flamette editor; Mary Morneau, associate editor; and Anne Naughton, Flamette editor, rush to get out the next "Spark."

Chatting before a tournament are debate officers Margaret Looney, Secretary; Betty Marks, President; and Mary Bartles, Vice-President.

AFFIRMATIVE VS. NEGATIVE

DEBATE BRINGS FAME, AWARDS TO SCHOOL THROUGH MUCH TIME AND HARD WORK

Martha Mabry, Katy O'Mary, Pat Laird and Darrah Bagley get set for a debate trip.

Dutchy Bodheimer, Peggy Moffat, Margaret Looney, Nina Broyles, Betty Marks and Martha Mabry lead debaters to victory in Senior Division.

Sister Patricia guides the minds of the debaters to fuller research and development.

"Debate training is a wonderful basis for good public speaking," say Elaine Cooper, Jane Burandt, Pat Navarre, Celests Landry, and Ruth Gras.

Sophomores and freshmen learn new techniques in Debate. Celeste Landry, Elaine Copper, Jane Burandt, Pat Navarre, Anita Warner, Pat Rachel, Ruth Gras, and Marianna Sterba.

Senior debate partners Betty Marks and Nina Broyles; Margaret Looney and Peggy Moffatt seem pleased with results of latest tournaments.

Betty Marks, Margaret Looney, Anita Warner, Marianne Sterba, Pat Rachal, and Marilee Walter work diligently to become good speakers and good debaters.

Nina Broyles, Betty Marks, Dutchy Bodenheimer, Pat Laird, Nancy May, Peggy Moffett, Margaret Looney, Celeste Landry, Elaine Cooper, and Jane Burandt give time and effort but get many rewards in debate.

ST. VINCENT

OLD AND CHERISHED

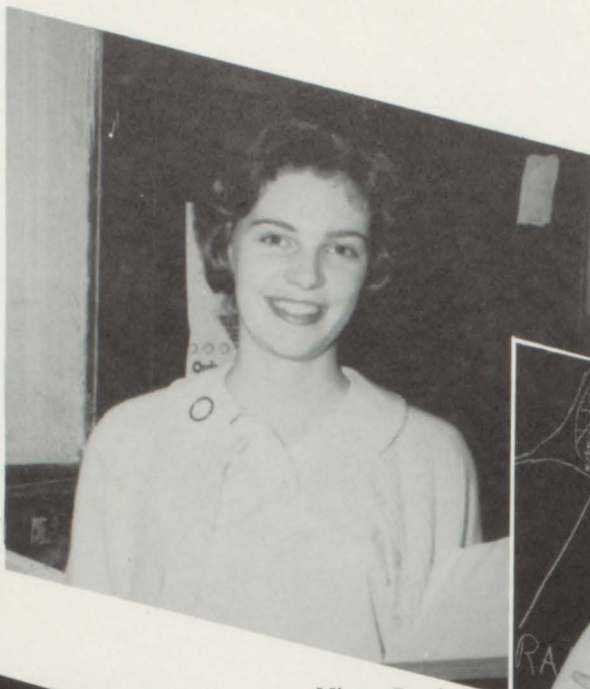

Like a rainbow glittering after a rain, shines the memories of days gone past; shining through the heartaches and mishaps, sparkling through the tear drops and disappointments. Soon all will be forgotten, melting away as the clouds, and nothing will remain but the beautiful thoughts of times spent in work and play at SVA.

Much too soon the old is replaced by the new—new times, new places and always too, new faces. But time is fleeting and we must move on to newer things and greater conquests.

MASS, BUILDINGS, TELEPHONES - PART OF CAMPUSOLOGY

Prayer in abundance.

No, nothing in particular, just thought I'd call.

BOARDERS MAKE SVA - "HOME AWAY FROM HOME"

Boarders Officers Bitsy Patrick, President; Dianne Dalphiem, Treasurer; Suzy Dunn, Secretary, and Nicki Rivet Vice-President, accompanied by Sr. Elizabeth, descend the stairs to heed the dinner bell.

Emily Funda, Gene Lyles, Pat Limberg, and Jackie Walker wander in to sneak a peek at the T.V.

Rose Marie Gerow, Gloria Martin, Gene Lyles, Pat Limburg, Emily Fonda, Suzy Dunn, and Jackie Walker gather and hold a gossip session.

A hard day's work finds Della Gordon, Johnette Williams, Bitsy Patrick, and Marie Migrothy with little or no energy to spare.

Bitsy Patrick and Bernadette Zimmer go through the nightly hair fixing routine while onlookers Della Gordon, Fran Costella, Johnette Williams, Dianne Dalphiem, Nicki Rivet and Marie Migrothy stare in wonderment.

A CHILD IS BORN

"A Child is Born," a modern drama of the nativity, by Steven Vincent Benet was presented at the annual Christmas production directed by Sister Theophane.

The play is not realistic — there is no inn, nor is there a stable on stage. There is only the costuming and, of course, the message contained in the words of the poet.

Dorothy Bradley and BeBe Crofton portray the maids, Lea and Sara; Noopy Levy plays the wife; Penny Ohm, the innkeeper, and the thief is Barbara Sahl.

The poetic play is narrated by Junior, Frances Pinckley.

Valentine's Day marked the annual Senior Presentation ending with a circle of St. Vincent's girls and faculty representing the continuous bonds of friendship and loyalty.

SENIOR PRESENTATION HELD ON VALENTINE'S DAY - SWEETHEARTS OF 1962

Attending St. Vincent's for twelve years are Mary Uffleman, Frances Caplis and Nina Hendricks.

Barbara McMillian and Rosalie Ingouf have attended S.V.A. since kindergarten.

NEW ORGANIZATION FORMED - DRAMATICS CLUB

TALENTED STUDENTS PLAN PLAY PROGRAMS

Della Gordon, Ann Braswell, and Mike Hill read the notices on the dramatics board.

Senior dramatics officers Elaine Butler, Mary Summers, Dorothy Bradley and Bernadette Zimmer plan the various activities.

DRAMA GROUP PROVIDES SVA WITH FRESH NEW PLAYS DURING ASSEMBLIES

Margaret Henderson, Michele Maroun, Jean Pope, Carol Jean Cobb, Connie Linxwiler and Joey Rinaudo practice for perfection.

The dramatics group discusses the new production.

SARAH BERNHARDT AWARD EARNED BY BERNADETTE ZIMMER

Standing, Ann Braswell, Miriam Crafts, Jan Bartek, Elaine Butler, Valarie Light, Doris Phelps, Mary Summers, Bitsy Patrick, Jimmy Hilborn, Kathy McGaffigan, Bernadette Zimmer, seated, Camille Kennedy, Cookie Hull, Aimee Williams, Della Gordon, Joy Brownlee, Bernadine Provenza, Dorothy Bradley, Mike Hill and Joanie Berberich compile the senior group in dramatics.

In keeping with the Student Council theme for 1962 "Keep In The Swing of Things," S.V.A. classes this year selected girls most in the swing of things.

The Sophomore's selection is Chris Malec.

Freshmen favor Emile Funda.

WE STAND
ON THE THRESHOLD
OF A NEW DREAM

"Returns the tide but nevermore returns the traveler to the shore," is the feeling of the Seniors of 1962, as they look with hope, determination, and learning to discover what lies just over the next horizon.

It was a hectic climb to seniorship, one with all the worries, frustrations, English themes and biology projects conceivable. One which leaves a pattern of spirit and good will for the underclassmen to follow.

The influence of the Seniors, present and past, in the old St. Vincent's will reflect through the Seniors of the future in the new St. Vincent's. The classes will uphold the purposes and ideals that emerge frequently through the year, and will react with good judgment and mature leadership.

CLASSES

IN THE YEAR OF TRANSITION, 1962,
THIS SENIOR CLASS WILL BE THE LAST TO GRADUATE FROM THE OLD BUILDING ON SOUTHERN AVENUE

Senior class President Florence McGill bangs the official gavel and calls for silence.

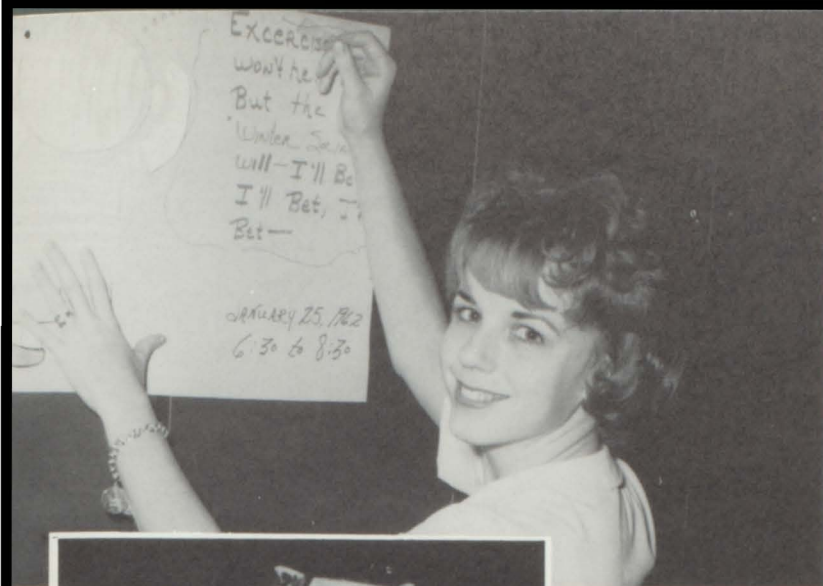

Fran Costello and Betty McCotter cart SVA's ancient ladder upstairs to mend the bell rope.

Playing "hide and seek" seems the favorite pastime these days; anyway so think Mary Uffelman, Karen Stevens, Toni Messmer, and Della Gordon.

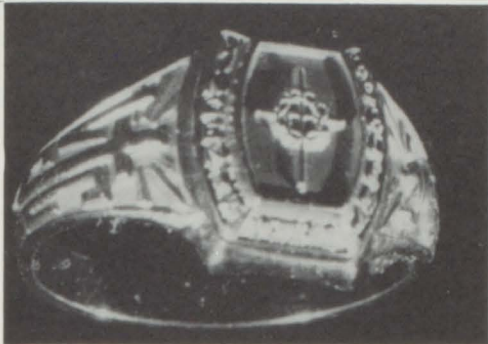

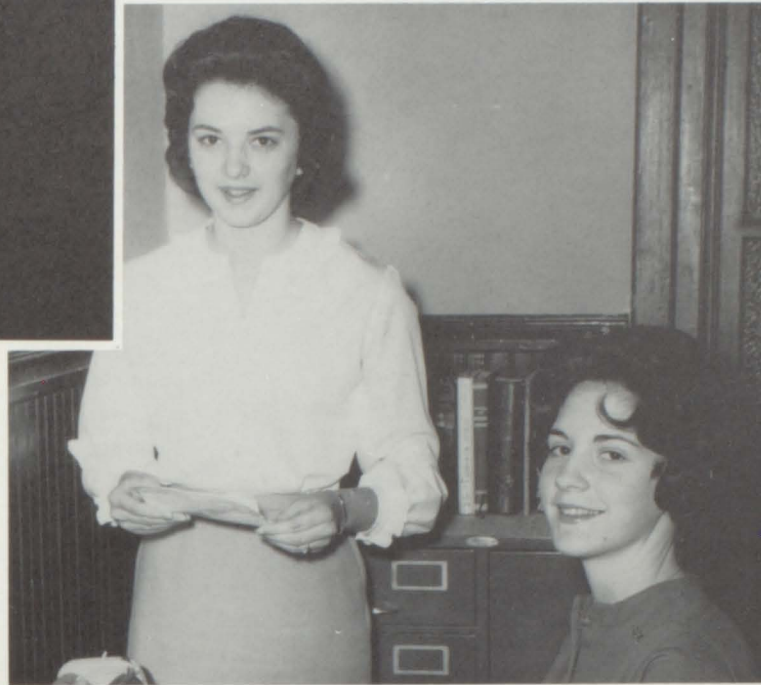

SENIORS' EXAMPLE LEADS SCHOOL

Vice-President Ramona Bott hangs up advertising poster for Senior Class.

Treasurer, Ursula Procell, and Senior Class Secretary, Karen Stevens, prepare class list for graduation diplomas.

A symbol of honor, the class ring reminds each girl of her duties and responsibilities as a leader in her school, a leader in her community and a leader in her world. The SVA Senior grasps the meaning as each word and phrase is engraved on her ring and in her heart.

Senior sponsor, Sister Laurentia, Darlene Strange, and Nina Hendricks measure off tickets.

Anxiety and tension mounts as the Senior Class of '62 wait for the blessing and presentation of the rings.

JUNIOR CLASS
STAGES AMATEUR
NIGHT AS FUND
RAISING PROJECT
FOR JUNIOR-
SENIOR PROM

There are three major items of importance in the life of a Junior: the annual "Amateur Night," the Junior-Senior Prom, and becoming a Senior. IdaMae Follain, Marie, Sherrie Hennard, Dutchy Bodenheimer, Judy Nash, Frances Pinckley, Ann Leone, Vicki May, Margurite Ropollo on the front line and Dianne Dalfiume and Datrah Bagley on the back, lead off the "Amateur Night" with a rip-roaring song.

Patti Tidwell, Vice-President; Karen Wiley, Treasurer; Nancy May, President; and Dolores Bott, Secretary, prepare for the annual "Junior Amateur Night." These Junior class officers work steadily to improve the class rating and mold a well-rounded class.

Leading freshman activities this year are Atholyn Ligon, President; Emilee Funda, Vice-President; Celeste Nasser, Secretary; and Cindy Marshall, Treasurer. The big task of the freshmen is getting acquainted with the faculty, upperclassmen, and traditions of St. Vincent's. The Senior "Big Sisters" make the job lighter with guidance and friendship.

Atholyn presides over Freshman Class meeting.
